Historic Sites Near Manor House Trail

Ever wonder why a corral was built at the top of the Manor House Trail? You can find out by viewing the Ken-Caryl Ranch Historical Society's latest video telling about more historical sites along the many Ken-Caryl trails. This new video, the third in the trails series, highlights those located along the Manor House Trail and the North Hogback Trail. They include the buildings near the Manor House as well as places and objects at the trail's summit. Along the North Hogback Trail, you will find information about an old kiln and cattle feeder. All of the Historical Society's videos are located on the Ken-Caryl website at the link below.
